What a day!

One day, Mandy and Johnny were walking on the street. Suddenly, Johnny felt hot and hungry. So did Mandy.

Then, they both decided to take a transport to go and enjoy lunch at a local restaurant. They were thinking about what transport they should travel on. When Mandy saw a bus stop next to them, she asked, 'How about we take the bus to get there?' Johnny replied, 'Travelling by bus is cheap, but it is often crowded and slow. How about taking a taxi? It is speedy and convenient.' They both agreed to take the taxi. When they got on the taxi not long, there was a traffic jam. However, they still waited patiently.

When they finally got off the taxi, it cost more than they expected. Unfortunately, Mandy found out after they paid the fee, they needed forty dollars to buy fast food for lunch. Yet, they only had thirty dollars left.

In the end, they decided to go to the convenience store to buy food as it was way cheaper. They thought travelling by MTR might be a better idea since it is fast and cheap. What an unforgettable day!
